BACKGROUND

The Institute of Malaysian and International Studies (IKMAS) was established on 1 April 1995 as a centre for research in Social Sciences at Universiti Kebangsaan Malaysia (UKM). On 15 August 2013, the Institute was merged with the Institute of Occidental Studies (IKON) and the Institute of West Asian Studies (IKRAB). Following the restructuring, the IKMAS now focuses on Malaysian and International Studies.

VISION, MISSION AND EDUCATIONAL GOALS

VISION

To be a research centre of excellence on regional and transregional studies leading to an understanding of historical and contemporary transformations, bearing in mind the interests of the Malaysian society.

MISSION

To engage in collaborative research, education and service that seek to establish IKMAS as a nationally and globally recognised institute for inter-disciplinary research.

EDUCATIONAL GOALS

- To conduct basic, applied and strategic research including policy input that is beneficial to society;

- To promote collaborative research and dialogue at the national and global level;

- To contribute to the discourse on globalisation, occidentalism and social transformation from the perspectives of developing nations;

- To build human capital and nurture independent scholarship through postgraduate studies.
