They succeeded Tan Sri Md Desa Pachi, Tan Sri Dr Wan Mohd Zahid Mohd Noordin and Amin, who retired on December 31 last year.

PNB group chairman Tan Sri Abdul Wahid Omar said their extensive experience in various fields of economy, finance and investment would contribute greatly to the already strong foundation laid by the previous board members of PNB and ASNB.

"I am confident that their presence would spur PNB further. It would achieve our vision to be a distinctive world-class investment house.

"On behalf of the board and management of PNB and ASNB, I would like to extend our heartfelt gratitude to the former board members for their dedication and immense contributions towards the remarkable growth of the PNB group.

"Certainly, without their sacrifice and wisdom over the years, PNB would not have been where it is presently. Thank you so much on behalf of PNB and our 128 million unitholders," he said.
