International Conference STUDIES IN THE MALAY WORLD (PAPAM) 2020

EMPOWERING THE NATION-STATE:
FROM THE MALAY WORLD TO TAIWAN

18 - 19 February 2020

Feng Chia University,
Taichung, Taiwan

INTRODUCTION

After successfully organising the 1st International Conference on Malay Studies at SOAS, London, 2016, Institut Alam dan Tamadun Melayu (ATMA) would like to once again invite participants from around the world to take part in the 2nd International Conference on Malay Studies in Taichung, Taiwan. It is hoped that this conference will unite and assemble as many scholars/experts/ specialists on the Malay world as possible in Taiwan, to convey their united voice in expressing their struggles, hopes and solutions regarding the sustainability of the nation-state.

The organisation of this conference is in line with the MRUN International research grant and signed MoU, specifically by UKM and universities in Taiwan. The organisation of this conference is also as a continuation of the collaboration programs by UKM and FCU (Feng Chia University). This attracted the interest of Taiwanese citizens, especially around FCU, which is located in Taichung, Taiwan to know more about the Malay world, especially about the community, culture language and faith.

Therefore, academicians, practitioners, performers, researchers, policy makers, leaders, journalists and members of NGOs are welcomed to share and exchange various and unique experiences. This platform offers the opportunity for dialogue, debate, discussion and conclusions on issues regarding the Nation-state in general, and extending beyond the Malay world to Taiwan in particular. The sustainability of the Nation-state in this conference encompasses the geographical boundaries of the Malay Archipelago to Taiwan.
