Background

Climate change has become a crucial issue for today's world community. Their impacts influence many aspects of human life and therefore, in need of in-depth studies and its output can be used by policy makers. To address various issues faced by living populations due to climate change, Space Science Centre (ANGKASA) under the Institute of Climate Change, Universiti Kebangsaan Malaysia (UKM) in collaboration with Faculty of Science and Natural Resources, Universiti Malaysia Sabah (UMS) and Angkasa Student Association (ASA) proudly presents the 2016 International Conference on Science and Technology Applications in Climate Change (STA CLIM 2016). The conference will gather all scientists, engineers, policy makers and students who are related to the field of science, technology and multidisciplinary to offer their contributions in addressing climate change issues.

Venue

Kota Kinabalu

Kota Kinabalu is the capital of the state of Sabah, Malaysia. It is also the capital of the West Coast Division of Sabah. The city is located on the northwest coast of Borneo facing the South China Sea. Kota Kinabalu is often known as KK. It is a major fishing destination and a popular gateway for travellers visiting Sabah and Borneo. Kinabalu Park is located about 90 kilometres from the city and there are many other tourist attractions in and around the city. Kota Kinabalu is also one of the major industrial and commercial centres of East Malaysia. These two factors combine to make Kota Kinabalu one of the fastest growing cities in Malaysia.
